

Bandit

Bandit was born on October 16, 2008 and then a couple of months I got her as a Christmas present! She was 16 years old when she walked to doggy heaven and those were the best 16 years of my life! She was definitely a character & a good listener as well. Always had one ear up no matter who was around, being nosy. She loved to give kisses and hugs too! Everytime someone would walk in she would hurry up and smell them or give them kisses and never leave their side. She definitely loved everything and everyone. If you didn't love on her enough she would snort at you and give you a look. She loved being outside listening to the birds or even be in her bean bag watching tv. Definitely gonna miss you, Bandito Mesquito. Thank you for being the best dog a girl could ask for. Thank you for getting me through so many tough times in my life and being that shoulder I could cry on. I hope you're enjoying all the pup cups & food you want and you're running around pain free.
