

Buddy

February 3, 2023

I got Buddy as a puppy in 2008. I was 8 years old and he grew up beside me. He crossed the Rainbow Bridge on Christmas Eve of 2022. In life he was always by my side, and it brings me comfort to know that he always will be. I miss his smile, I miss his goofiness, I miss him blepping every time he sleeps. Buddy was always such a little pig, too. He'd eat anything he could. That's something that never changed about him. Even when he was sick, he'd perk up if you offered him some ham. I'm very thankful for all the years I got with him, but forever wouldn't be long enough. I love you Buddy. You're a good boy.

“ Buddy is such a good boy, and I just miss him more and more every day. I remember when I found out I was getting a puppy, I was so sure that I was going to get a girl! I started spending my allowance on and having my parents buy little dresses to dress my puppy up with. And then I fell in love with my little Buddy, a boy dog. But that didn't deter me! Buddy was the cutest princess! I have a video on my old phone of me dressed up as Snow White, and Buddy in a purple velvet-y dress with rhinestones on it, and I'm holding on him and we're dancing around the kitchen. I miss my sweet boy so much. ”

“ When we were trying to housebreak Buddy, he stayed in a doggie playpen. We would use a rolled up newspaper to correct him. But anytime I got near him he would hide behind Ashley. Even though I wasn't the one who usually disciplined him. He was afraid of me. Love that dog so much. I miss you buddy!! ”
