

Buddy

July 12, 2024

Buddy became a member of the Browning family, along with his brother Frankie, on November 11, 2011. Buddy got his name after responding to a commercial jingle that was often sung to him. And he lived up to his name.

He was known as the guard dog and protector of the group, even though he was the smallest. When he became the only dog, he was more gentle with a sweet personality. He was a fighter who overcame a few health issues until he passed away with his loving family by his side on July 12, 2024.

He was a good boy who provided many years of love, laughter, and comfort. We still miss him, my Buddy.
