To Daisy, or better known as My Crazy Girl,

You're the sweetest and craziest girl I've ever met. Even though you were only sweet to me and the people who loved you most. I loved that you only had eyes for us. You knew what you wanted and no one could change that.

You had the cutest face ever. From when I first saw you until the day we said goodbye, you always made my heart smile.

I got you when I was 14. You were a surprise gift. Little did I know, you would help me get through some of the toughest moments in my life. Who knew, that such a little scruffy stinky girl could be so amazing. From the time you stole the cookies and left one for grandma, to every time you stayed with me whenever I was alone.

You never left me by myself. And for that I couldn't be more grateful. In the saddest and most painful moments, you were still at my side. Even when I had nothing, I still had you. You were my world and I was yours.

As a young girl, you helped me grow. As an adult, you inspired me to be strong and content with life. Every time I think of you, I can't help but smile. You are such a beautiful and graceful soul. Even when your age got the best of you, you were resilient. I know you fought for us.

I will always remember you. In your honor, I will try to live my life happy. It's a choice and it's what you always chose, no matter the circumstance. I think of you everyday and I will miss you forever. I'll see you soon crazy girl.
