

Ella May

March 8, 2025

"Ella May Amador may have been small, but she was incredibly mighty. A loyal companion, she was by my side through everything, from the moment she was born until her last breath. A true protector, Ella earned the nickname "ankle biter" because she fiercely defended her territory, nipping at the ankles of anyone unfamiliar who entered our home. She was my sweet girl who loved having her belly rubbed. When she wasn't curled up at my feet, she enjoyed playing in the yard with her mom, Mia, and her best friend, a German Shepherd named Astro. Ella was deeply loved, and she is going to be missed dearly.

-Brittany, Nathan, Eliana, Makayla and her day one Kiara Amador."