

George

February 21, 2023

17 years of life for such a sweet boy, but it doesn't seem like enough. George spent his time cuddled up in his favorite tiny human's lap with a soft blanket. He always new when his mom needed his love, and he loved his human siblings enough to tolerate them and their noises. George will be missed greatly, but we are thankful he is resting peacefully at home with us once again.
