

Little Girl Wade

April 28, 2026

Little Girl was more than just a pet—she was my constant companion and emotional support. No matter what I was going through, she was always there, leaning against me or resting her head on me, making sure I wasn't alone. She had a gentle, loving nature and a way of knowing exactly when I needed her most.

She loved being close, snuggling, and simply being near me and her pack. She brought comfort, warmth, and so much love into my life every single day. She was truly one of a kind, and she will always be deeply missed and forever loved.
