

Lola

February 3, 2025

She's was a feisty, but also so loving at the same time. She loved saying hello to us every morning as well as when we would come home. She loved the texture of hair so she would sit on your head and watch tv