

Max

December 5, 2025

Max wasn't just a dog, he was family, comfort, and unconditional love wrapped in fur. From his gentle eyes to his quiet presence, he had a way of making everything feel a little safer and a little warmer. He stayed loyal through every moment, offering love without ever asking for anything in return.

Max taught us the meaning of devotion, patience, and living in the moment. His small paws left the biggest imprint on our hearts, and his memory will live on in every quiet moment, every familiar spot, and every smile he brought to our lives.

Though he may no longer be by our side, he will always be a part of us. Loved deeply, missed endlessly, and remembered forever.

Rest easy, sweet Max. 🐾💕

Tribute Wall

“ 1 file added to the album Memories Album

Furrever Pet Crematory - January 23 at 05:24 PM