

MiMi

October 24, 2025

Mimi was born on August 1st 2015, I helped her mama Cha Cha deliver her. Mimi was a protective dog... She never let strangers near me. Mimi didn't like very many people but the few that she did she would always protect them as much as she did me. Mimi was very loyal and love to get belly rubs. When it was bedtime she would jump on the bed and lay on her pillow. I would always ask her if she loved her mama and her reaction would be to lay on her back and bow out her chest with her front paws slightly bent and her back legs stretched out as if she was saying I love you this much mama. She also liked for me to rub her forehead between her eyes and she would fall asleep with in minutes. Mimi would also hug me during the night by placing her paw across my chest. During the night as we slept she always pressed up against me and would take up 3/4 of the bed. Mimi's love for me was unconditional and I will miss her dearly. Rest in peace my precious girl.
