

Phoenix

October 18, 2024

Phoenix was a sweet boy, that loved to snuggle, and purr, whenever someone was feeling down. He was adopted at a few months old, and full of energy and life. He had a small gray patch on his forehead, that faded away as he grew older: much like a Phoenix rising from the ashes.

He will always be loved, and cherished. He will be missed by his human caretakers, and animal siblings. We love you bubba Phoenix. Thank you for always loving us back.
