Samson was a rescue boy about one year of age. He come into our family like it was always his home. He was a great protector of his domain when need be. He loved our Grand Babies to pieces. He loved going on walks and wrestling around with my wife and I as well as his little sister. The day we brought her into our home we didn't know what to expect. She went strait to him he opened his mouth wide and growled. She stuck her little bitty head in his mouth and prowled back. Best friends forever.
