

Stuffy

July 23, 2025

Stuffy wasn't just a pet he was my emotional support animal and my friend. He was very stubborn at times but he was always there for me when I needed him the most. Me and him had our best moments together. He helped me through some tough traumas but he still cared for me like I cared for him.